

HOUSTON CHRONICLE

Dec. 14, 2009

West Oaks Mall

Snow princess ready for her performance

Based on the Russian fable, the Snow Princess will conjure up an indoor snowfall as a laser light show and Santa-rinas swirl and dance around her during the Snow Princess on "Glice" Show at 7 p.m., Dec. 22 at West Oaks Mall, located on the corner of Hwy. 6 and Westheimer.

The free performance is based on the tale of the daughter of Father Frost and Mother Spring. The Snow Princess can call snow at will, but her parents remind her that she must never open her heart to falling in love.

The 800-square-foot ice Rink will be open to the public for skating through Feb. 24. Admission is $10 with a coupon.

Photo Courtesy of RPI Entertainment & Media Group

Snow Princess makes her magical entrance through puff of smoke and laser light while clad in a dazzling light-up costume

Hundreds of fans of all ages line-up to meet and greet the Snow Princess after the performance at West Oaks Mall